COMING HOME: Reaching True Identity and Orientation Empowerment; For The LGBTQ+ Community

The Rio Retreat Center at The Meadows one-of-a-kind workshops offer healing and empowerment to individuals in various stages of their recovery. Our workshops address the needs of those who have just begun a recovery process, as well as those who have been on a recovery path and may have hit a plateau or want to deepen their experience. Workshops can also be a source of renewal for anyone who has undergone treatment. Participants work on sensitive issues in a concentrated format allowing them to jump-start and enhance their personal recovery journey by gaining insight into unhealthy patterns and practicing new relational skills within a safe environment.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Coming Home is an experiential workshop specifically designed for the LGBTQ+ community. These individuals—wherever they are on their journey and however they identify, as a gender or sexual minority—have lived unique experiences. Coming together in a safe space with others who have also walked that path brings a sense of belonging and deep acceptance that is longed for.

This workshop was created to help individuals embrace their true identity and orientation, gain empowerment, and overcome past hardship and isolation. Led by staff knowledgeable about the community, Coming Home will help participants step into resilience—as the powerful individuals they are meant to be—with their identity and orientation being a part of that.

Participants will learn that empowerment is about feeling comfortable in their skin, feeling liberated from others' constructs about who and how they 'should' be, and giving themselves unshakable permission to be themselves. Empowerment in identity and orientation is truly about coming home to yourself.

In this workshop we will explore therapeutic healing without the burden of heteronormative assumptions and perspectives, and fear of discrimination. Instead, participants will process the intersectionality of sexual orientation, gender identity, race, age, and other factors that make them who they are.

Topics include:

- Minority stress and heterosexual and cisgender privilege
- Coming out, again and again
- Grief and loss as a part of the community experience
- Body image and self-confidence
- Ample time to experientially process your journey, including trauma, hardship, and isolation that may have been acting as a barrier to resilience and empowerment
- Visioning your future

Our community offers:

- A safe, accepting environment with privacy and communal space as needed
- Respect and use of the individual's preferred pronouns and name
- Gender neutral restrooms or use of one that corresponds most closely with gender identity
- Complete confidentiality
